As no Agros distributor has ever controlled the quality of the Agros’ products the continuous common law rights to the marks inure to the benefit of Counterclaim Plaintiff Agros.

151. Further evidence of continuous use of the SESAME SNAPS brand by the Agros Companies may be found in a 1994 letter to an Agros intermediary, Adam Stafiej, from the US FDA regarding SESAME SNAPS entering the California market whereby an FDA included a statement appears to show SESAME SNAPS as a brand name: “The filing of the notice qualifies Fortuna brand drinks and juices and Sesame Snaps for exemption from the requirement for mandatory nutrition labeling for the time period between May 8, 1994, to May 7, 1995 (copy enclosed to confirm your submission).

152. From 1985 to present, Agros' total sales in the US through BC Imports exceeds $13,057,000 (US dollars).

153. Sales of Agros products have been found in such famous retailers as A W Marshall, Albertson's, Amazon.com, Cost Plus Inc., Costco, Dairy Mart, Super Store Industries, Unified Grocers, Volume Snacks, Winco Foods among many others.

154. As a result of Agros' continuous and substantial sales through BC Imports since 1985 and, upon information and belief, through A.H. Walter Company, Inc. since 1967, the SESAME SNAPS mark achieved secondary meaning in the minds of its consumers for sesame bars and become famous in the United States.

155. In the Complaint filed by MICHAELS, Plaintiff/Counterclaim Defendant asserts that he "acquired his sesame snaps business, including all intellectual property rights, from K-Max Corp, which acquired the business from the now defunct Dalimpex Ltd." (Michaels Complaint ¶ 25).

156. Michaels asserts in his complaint that Dalimplex Ltd. claimed rights to its SESAME SNAPS CANDY / FRIANDISE, US trademark registration (Reg. No. 2627618), as early as 1998 (Michaels' Complaint ¶ 28).

157. US Reg. No. 2627618 of the mark SESAME SNAPS CANDY / FRIANDISE was cancelled on May 16, 2009.

158. Michaels claims ownership of the K-Max Corp.'s trademarks as of August 16, 2012 (Michaels' Complaint ¶ 47).

159. K-Max Corp was a licensed distributor of Agros' Sesame Snaps in Canada from 2003 to 2010.

160. In Agros v. K-Max when confirming the trial court judge's ruling, the Court in its May 19, 2015 Endorsement quoted the trial court:

"Having reviewed the affidavit of Pawel Celinski and examined sample packages of the plaintiffs 'sesame snaps' product and the product which the defendants have sold and distributed, I am satisfied that the 'Classic Sesame' candies infringe the copyrighted works and trademarks of the plaintiff."

(Exhibit 4 , Agros v. K-Max May 19, 2015 Endorsement ¶ 22)

161. Upon information and belief, K-Max Corp was never an owner of any of Agros intellectual property and if it had any ownership rights to any trademark which included the mark SESAME SNAPS after 2010, those rights were, upon information and belief, long after 1967, Agros' date of first use of the mark SESAME SNAPS in the US through its distributor A.H. Walter Company, Inc., as well as long after the date the mark SESAME SNAPS was used through its distributor BC Imports, on or before 1985.

162. Michaels claims ownership and control over the following domain names:
1.SesameSnap.com; 2. SesameSnaps.com; 3. SesameSnaps.net; 4. SesameSnaps.org: and
5.SesameSnaps.biz (hereinafter "Disputed Domain Names") (Michaels' Complaint ¶¶ 21-23).

163. Michaels claims he was the registered owner of the following on December 29, 2012: SesameSnaps.net; SesameSnaps.org; and Sesamesnaps.biz (Michaels' Complaint ¶ 21).

164. Michaels claims he was the registered owner of SesameSnap.com on January 20, 2013 (Michaels' Complaint ¶ 22).

165. Michaels claims he was the registered owner of SesameSnaps.com on January 22, 2014 (Michaels' Complaint ¶ 23).

166. Michaels claims to have sold sesame products (sesame sticks and sesame cookies) under the names “Classic Sesame” and “Sesame Snaps” from his webpage located at SesamSnaps.com since October 3, 2014 (Michaels’ Complaint ¶ 24).

COUNT I - COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT (17 U.S.C. 501)

167. Agros realleges and incorporates herein all previous allegations as if set forth in full herein.

168. The Copyrighted Works constitute copyrightable subject matter under the Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. § 101 and Agros owns exclusive rights and privileges in the Copyrighted Works.

169. The Canadian Court in Agros v. K-Max held in pertinent part that (see Exhibit 4):

- a. the current design of the box packaging for Sesame Snaps was in use from at least 2006.
- b. [Agros] has had a right to copyright protection from that time forward.
- c. K-Max ceased being a distributor of Agros’ product in 2010.
- d. K-Max’s Classic Sesame box design is difficult to distinguish from Agros’ Sesame Snap box design.
- e. K-Max’ “continued use of the Classic Sesame box design constitutes a violation of the Plaintiffs copyright.”

170. Michaels is currently using the exact same package as K-Max’s Classic Sesame box design as described by the Canadian court in Agros v. K-Max, in which the court found that Argos had a right to copyright protection and K-Max had infringed those rights.

171. As Michaels claims to have obtained all of his intellectual property rights from K-Max (Michaels’ Complaint ¶ 47) and continues to use the Classic Sesame box design he continues to violate Agro’s copyright.

172. Since at least 2014 Michaels has infringed the Copyrighted Works by using, publishing, displaying publically and promoting them through the sale of Michaels’ product and through other means (Michaels’ Complaint ¶ 24).

173. Without authorization of Agros, Michaels has and continues to use the Copyrighted Works. Michaels is distributing copies of the Copyrighted Works to others by sale of products and displaying the Copyrighted Works publically. Michaels continues to infringe the Copyrighted Works without authorization, thus causing irreparable injury. Upon information and belief, Michaels has derived substantial financial benefit from the infringement of Agros' copyrights.

174. The foregoing acts of copyright infringement by Michaels have been willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard and with indifference to Agros' rights.

175. Michaels has been aware of his infringement at the very latest when the Canadian court in Agros v. K-Max ruled against K-Max on January 22, 2015. (see Exhibit 5)

176. As a direct and proximate result of Michael's infringement of Agros' copyrights. Agros is entitled to damages as well as a disgorgement of Michaels' ill-gotten profits pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(b), Agros is entitled to punitive damages due to Michaels' malicious willful infringement of the Copyrighted Works under 17 U.S.C. § 504(c)(2), especially after a previous judgment by the Canadian Superior Court of Justice.

177. Agros is entitled to a full and accurate accounting by Michaels of all profits generated through his infringement of the Copyrighted Works.

178. Michaels will continue his acts of infringement unless enjoined by the Court.

179. As a result of Michael's activities Agros has been damaged and continues to be damaged in an amount to be ascertained.

180. As a result of the infringement, Agros has suffered irreparable harm and Michaels should be preliminarily and permanently enjoined from directly or indirectly infringing Agros' rights.

AS AND FOR A SECOND COUNTERCLAIM
TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT
AND COUNTERFEITING (15 U.S.C. § 1114(1)(A))

181. Agros repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 177 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

182. Agros is without an adequate remedy at law and has suffered irreparable harm and injury to its goodwill and reputation.

183. As a result of Michaels' activities Agros has been damaged in an amount to be ascertained. Agros seeks an accounting of Michael's profits and Agros' actual and consequential damages resulting from Michael's infringing acts. Agros also seeks injunctive relief pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1116. Agros seeks punitive, additional, and enhanced damaged from Michaels, as well as recovery of Agros' attorney's fees and costs of litigation. In addition, or in the alternative, Agros seeks recovery of the maximum amount of statutory damages as permitted by 15 U.S.C. § 1117(c), including but not limited to, $2,000,000.00 per counterfeit mark per each type of good sold, offered for sale, or distributed.

184. Because of the previous litigation in Canada with K-Max of which Michaels was aware, the infringing use is willful, thus entitling Agros to enhanced damages.

AS AND FOR A THIRD COUNTERCLAIM
UNFAIR COMPETITION, FALSE
DESIGNATION OF ORIGIN (15 U.S.C. § 1125(A)), TRADE DRESS DILUTION
(15 U.S.C. § 1125(C))

185. Agros repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 181 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

186. The look and feel of the copyrighted works is non-functional, famous, and inherently distinctive or has acquired distinction within the meaning of the Lanham Act and as such also functions as trade dress.

187. By copying the total image and overall appearance of the copyrighted works Michaels has copied and diluted Agros particular trade dress.

188. The unauthorized goods sold, offered for sale, and distributed by Michaels and services offered by Michaels through the Disputed Domain Names are of the same general nature and type as the goods sold, offered for sale, and distributed by Agros and, as such, Michaels' use of the Asserted Trade Dress, Asserted Trademarks and Counterfeit Marks have caused confusion to the general purchasing public.

189. By misappropriating and using the Asserted Trademarks and Disputed Domain Names, Michaels' misrepresented and falsely described to the general public the origin and source of the infringing goods and services and created a likelihood of confusion by purchaser as to both the source and sponsorship of such products and services.

190. Michaels' acts are in violation of Section 43(a) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a), in that Michaels' use in interstate commerce of the Asserted Trademarks, Disputed Domain Names and Counterfeit Marks, in connection with Michaels' goods and services constitutes a false designation of origin and unfair competition.

191. Agros is without an adequate remedy at law and has suffered irreparable harm and injury to its goodwill and reputation.

192. As a result of Michael's activities, Agros has been damaged in an amount to be ascertained. Agros seeks an accounting of Michael's profits and Agros' actual and consequential damages resulting from Michael's infringing acts. Agros seeks punitive, additional and enhanced damages from Michaels, as well as recover of Agros' attorney's fees and costs of litigation. In addition, or in the alternative, Agros seeks recovery of the maximum amount of statutory damages permitted by 15 U.S.C. § 1117(c).

AS AND FOR A FOURTH COUNTERCLAIM
COMMON LAW TRADEMARK
INFRINGEMENT & UNFAIR COMPETITION

193. AGROS repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 189 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

194. Agros owns valid trademarks, as set forth above, which are distinctive and have acquired secondary meaning.

195. Michaels' actions, as described above, are likely to cause and have caused substantial confusion, mistake or to deceive as to the affiliation, association or connection of Michaels with Agros, or as to the origin of the goods and services distributed, offered for sale, and / or sold by Michaels and the sponsorship or approval by Agros of Michaels and his commercial activities such that Michaels' acts constitute infringement of Agros' proprietary rights in the Asserted Trademarks, Disputed Domain Names, misappropriation of Agros' goodwill in the Asserted Trademarks, and unfair competition under New York law.

196. As a result of Michael's activities Agros has been damaged and continues to be damaged in an amount to be ascertained. The acts of infringement by Michaels have resulted in substantial unjust profits and unjust enrichment of Michaels in an amount to be ascertained. Such acts have caused great damage and harm to Agros.

AS AND FOR A FIFTH COUNTERCLAIM
CANCELLATION OF U.S. REGISTRATION No. 5,086,046
(15 U.S.C. §§ 1064 and 1119)

197. Agros repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 193, with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

198. Michaels claims ownership of U.S. Trademark Registration No. 5,086,046 (hereinafter “046 registration”) for “On-line retail store services featuring sesame based food products; Computerized on-line retail store services in the field of sesame based food products,’ in Class 035 with a claimed date of first use in commerce of October 3, 2014.

199. The 046 registration should be cancelled pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1064 on the grounds that Argos is the senior user.

200. Pursuant to the Lanham Act, the Court has jurisdiction to order the USPTO to make appropriate entries on the Federal Register with respect to the subject mark.

AS AND FOR A SIXTH COUNTERCLAIM
INJURY TO BUSINESS REPUTATION AND DILUTION IN VIOLATION OF N.Y. GEN. BUS. LAW §§ 349 and 350

201. Agros repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 197 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

202. This Count sets forth a claim for deceptive acts and business practices and false advertising in violation of New York General Business Law §§ 349 and 350.

203. Michaels’ commercial use of the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress represents a deliberate attempt to mislead consumers because defendant is causing a likelihood of confusion or of misunderstanding as to defendant’s goods and services, and those of third parties, having a source in or the sponsorship, approval or certification of Agros, or as being affiliated, connected or associated with Agros, and are otherwise engaging in conduct which creates a likelihood of confusion between Agros and Michaels' products and services, creating misunderstandings of the source of Michaels' products and services as being Agros' products and services.

204. By engaging in such false and misleading advertising, Michaels has engaged in deceptive acts and business practices in violation of New York General Business Law § 349, and false advertising in violation of New York General Business Law § 350.

205. By reason of Michaels above-described unlawful activities. Agros has sustained injury, damage and loss and Michaels has been unjustly enriched. Agros has already suffered irreparable harm, and will continue to be irreparably damaged unless this Court enjoins Michaels from continuing its unlawful acts. Agros has no adequate remedy at law.

AS AND FOR A SEVENTH COUNTERCLAIM
UNFAIR COMPETITION AND TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT UNDER N.Y. GEN. BUS. LAW § 360-k AND NEW YORK COMMON LAW

206. Agros repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 202 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

207. By virtue of Agros' long and continuous use of the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress, they have become and continues to be "truly distinctive" within the meaning of New York General Business Law Section 360-1.

208. Michaels has made and continues to make commercial use in commerce of the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress in a manner that causes dilution of the distinctive quality of such marks, and lessens the capacity of such mark to identify and distinguish Starbucks' goods and services.

209. Agros is entitled to an order from this Court preliminarily and permanently enjoining Michaels, his agents, employees and others acting in concert with them, from directly or indirectly making any further commercial use of the SESAME SNAPS Mark and Trade Dress, or any other names, marks or logos that are substantially similar thereto.

AS AND FOR AN EIGHTH COUNTERCLAIM
UNFAIR COMPETITION UNDER NEW YORK COMMON LAW

210. Agros repeats and realleges paragraphs 122 through 206 with the same force and effect as if fully set forth herein at length.

211. Agros has widely advertised and used the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress to identify its goods and services. By virtue of such advertising and use, the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress have come to identify Agros as the source of goods and services marketed under the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress and such marks have come to represent valuable goodwill which is owned by Agros.

212. Michaels' deliberate imitation and copying of the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress is without the permission of Agros, and Michaels' use of the SESAME SNAPS mark and Trade Dress constitutes common law trademark infringement and unfair competition and is unlawful.

213. By reason of Michaels' above-described unlawful activities. Agros has sustained injury, damage and loss and Michaels has been unjustly enriched. Agros has already suffered irreparable harm, and will continue to be irreparably damaged unless this Court enjoins Michaels from continuing its unlawful acts. Agros has no adequate remedy at law.
